

PROGRESSED MARS IN ASPECT TO VENUS

PROGRESSED MARS PARALLEL VENUS

This long-term aspect causes you to be impassioned with love for a person, project, or idea. Strong romantic attachments manifest. How painful or meaningful these attachments become depends on how the planets are aspected in the natal chart and which houses they rule. This is not a good time for starting new projects or beginning new relationships, personal or professional. Both will be extremely challenging under this aspect. Impulsive romantic involvements or impetuous business decisions will cause disagreements and difficulties. This cycle can be softened or improved if you are discreet, prudent, and sensible. Health problems, usually fevers and infections, may develop if you become too excessive.

PROGRESSED MARS CONJUNCT VENUS

The progressed conjunction between these two planets makes you extremely impulsive. This will be true of everything you do, but especially when it comes to romantic matters. Be careful of making hasty decisions about romance. You may regret them later. You will meet new people during this aspect and they will play a vital role in your life. But this is not the time to start a romantic involvement. It is a cycle during which jealousy can lead to physical harm.

Mystically, this aspect is the joining of the soul to the senses. It can lift you to the high heavens or cast you down into the pits of a self-generated hell. It all depends on which of these two planetary forces is stronger within you and more natural for you to express. Depending on your level of spiritual maturity, this aspect can bring true love and bliss or it can bring sexuality followed by pain and sorrow.

PROGRESSED MARS SEXTILE VENUS

The sextile is a period of increased romantic, sexual, and social activity. It is a favorable cycle, though your emotions and desires will be the basic driving force behind everything you think, say, and do. This aspect symbolizes a release of energy and magnetism that is directed toward fulfilling your desires and goals. It brings success in business matters and greater satisfaction with social affairs. There will also be opportunities for improving your financial conditions. It is an excellent time for forming close relationships, as they will benefit everyone involved. If Venus is stronger in your chart than Mars, you will develop artistic talents. If you are already an artist, you will enter a very creative period.

PROGRESSED MARS SQUARE VENUS

This is a difficult aspect. It makes you restless and impatient. Conflicts arise because you are impulsive and overly aggressive. The biggest problem is jealousy. It makes you lack consideration for other people's feelings, and thus it negatively affects personal and professional relationships. This is also a difficult cycle for anything related to money, love, and your social life. Carelessness in financial matters and a tendency to overindulge when seeking pleasure can create serious problems.

Difficulties are often caused by a lack of discretion in romantic matters. Tension and disharmony can cause pain, disappointment, separation from a loved one, or the loss of a job. This is a bad time for starting a new project or relationship. The houses ruled by Venus and Mars (mostly Venus) will be problematic. Recklessness and haste can lead to accidents. This is not a good time for surgery, especially cosmetic surgery.

PROGRESSED MARS TRINE VENUS

This is a positive cycle. It energizes your social life, bringing pleasure and financial gain. You have more creative energy, which you direct toward business affairs, artistic pursuits, and romance. It intensifies your desires in every area of your life. There will be little rest in the houses ruled by these two planets, especially those ruled by Venus, but you will find it exciting and pleasant because there will also be success in these areas. Personal and professional relationships started at this time will be fruitful and satisfying, though probably short lived.

PROGRESSED MARS OPPOSITION VENUS

You encounter resistance and opposition under this aspect, which means you will need to adapt to difficult or trying events and situations. Passion, jealousy, and mistrust will cause problems that bring financial loss or social and romantic difficulties. There will be disappointments or loss in the houses where the two natal planets are found or in the houses ruled by Venus.

This is a precarious period. Sexual aggression or incompatibility can cause serious problems that threaten intimate relationships. Antagonism and hostility can adversely affect your love life, marriage, or profession. If the emotion is not handled wisely and patiently, this aspect can result in the loss of love, divorce, or getting fired. This is not a time to start new projects, make changes, or travel, especially by automobile.

Couples are temporarily separated during this aspect due to professional circumstances, such as conflicting schedules, changing work conditions, business travel, or military service. This can produce jealousy and mistrust. One person may think the other has it better or easier. There is also a problem with suspicion. Where is the other person? Who are they with? What is he or she doing now? It is important that people involved in such circumstances adjust and adapt to the situation, or it can lead to a permanent separation, divorce, or the loss of a job.

Mars is the principle of strife. Venus is the principle of harmony. These forces are in opposition during this aspect and need to be balanced. Venus is the desire to be peaceful. Mars is the desire for excitement and change. These opposing forces need to be held in balance.

PROGRESSED MARS INCONJUNCT VENUS

Your sexual nature is strong during this aspect, which can lead to problems in personal and professional relationships. Be cautious that romantic involvements do not conflict with your professional responsibilities. A romantic affair with a co-worker can interfere with your ability to perform competently on the job. This, in turn, can produce stress and guilt, which can affect your health. Keep thorough records when dealing with money, as a discrepancy will most likely arise.

PROGRESSED MARS IN ASPECT TO JUPITER

PROGRESSED MARS CONJUNCT JUPITER

People tend to be extravagant and a bit reckless when Mars conjuncts Jupiter. There can be considerable financial loss or waste if you are not careful. On the other hand, this is often a time when sudden financial gains manifest in your life. Jupiter usually indicates, "Easy come, easy go." If money does flow into your life, you should try to save most of it. If you have learned the lessons of discretion and caution and you apply them in your life, this aspect will most likely be positive. Physically, you need to guard against infection, particularly in the blood system.

PROGRESSED MARS SEXTILE JUPITER

The danger of this aspect is a tendency to be too generous. The drive of Mars pushes the expansive principle of Jupiter. Thus you often go to extremes, becoming excessive or extravagant. It is a good time for most matters, especially those ruled by the two planets. Opportunities present themselves. Your social life will expand and you will meet new friends who enhance your life.

PROGRESSED MARS SQUARE JUPITER

This is a hazardous period. Problems arise involving medicine, the law, and religious attitudes. The problem with most squares is they contain more energy than most people can effectively manage, especially when Mars is involved. This aspect indicates excess and extravagance, which can lead to financial shortages and legal problems. It is not a time to be aggressive or fight for your rights, as this aspect is a key symbol of loss through litigation or the legal system.

You also need to be careful of religious leaders and people with intense or extreme religious attitudes. If your twelfth house is natively afflicted, you can find yourself confined during this aspect — emotionally, mentally, or physically. Extended travel should be avoided, especially by car. Guard yourself against cuts, accidents, and serious infections that can affect the blood system or genitals.

PROGRESSED MARS TRINE JUPITER

This is an excellent cycle for anything related to finances, law, medicine, religion, or advanced studies. It will also be a beneficial period socially. If both natal planets are well aspected, this progression can indicate great financial gains or a major promotion.

PROGRESSED MARS OPPOSITION JUPITER

This is a problematic period during which antagonists can get the better of you. Disappointment and loss manifest due to the severance of a relationship. If you go to extremes or lose control of your ego during this aspect, which is easy to do, it will be costly in many parts of your life. There are three major dangers associated with this aspect, and you need to be very careful if you want to avoid them. The first is danger of robbery or burglary. The second is danger to your career, which needs to be watched closely so that nothing devastating manifests. The third is danger of accidents, generally in a car, which can be quite expensive.

PROGRESSED MARS INCONJUNCT JUPITER

To delineate this aspect, you need to determine which of the two planets is stronger. If Mars is stronger, it will be a very difficult period. If Jupiter is stronger, it will just be a tough period. You will be seen as too aggressive or too domineering, and you may be. This can cause negative emotions that could affect your career or health. Physical problems that can arise include fluid imbalances, fever, infection, and problems related to the blood system. Like all hard aspect involving Mars, you need to guard against accidents with sharp objects, fire, or machinery.

PROGRESSED MARS IN ASPECT TO SATURN

PROGRESSED MARS PARALLEL SATURN

This parallel is very similar to the conjunction, though it lasts much longer. Like all parallels, it generally needs a lunar progression to become activated. If there is a negative lunar aspect during this period, you become angry, passionate, stubborn, and impulsive. This dangerous mix of emotions will cause you to become reckless and lack discretion. You will go to extremes, which will create serious problems.

There are two primary internal dynamics that arise under hard aspects between Mars and Saturn. The first is a tendency to cut yourself off from other people. You will become, or appear to become, cold and indifferent. The second is feeling that you have a passion within you that is not being allowed expression. This often leads to frustration followed by violence — emotionally and sometimes physically. From a health standpoint, both planets are considered to be “dirty.” Thus one needs to guard against infections.

PROGRESSED MARS CONJUNCT SATURN

This is a very negative aspect. It produces irritation and annoyance, which arouses anger and sometimes vengeance. These devastating emotions can manifest within you or be directed toward you from another person. They will be destructive to those around you but even more destructive to you. If you do not control these emotions, you will do something you will regret later. The houses ruled by these two planets, the houses where they are found natively, and most importantly the natal house containing Mars, indicate potential problem areas.

PROGRESSED MARS SEXTILE SATURN

This is a difficult aspect to analyze. Although the sextile is positive, both planets involved are considered negative. Nonetheless, benefits will come from this progression. Check the natal aspects of Mars and Saturn and the houses they rule. These are the areas where opportunities will arise, but benefits will manifest only after you do the hard work.

PROGRESSED MARS SQUARE SATURN

This is a very negative and potentially dangerous aspect. You feel compelled to take actions that you will later regret. Hate and jealousy erupt, creating no end to your troubles. If you do not control these emotions, there will be serious problems that will lead to disastrous results. These are strong statements. Hear them. Listen to them. Act wisely, or do not act at all.

This aspect symbolizes destructive past life karma that is being released. It often activates out of the blue and can be quite serious or violent. There is danger from anyone or anything ruled by Mars, including the police, military personnel, criminals, angry or violent people, and all kinds of machinery, including automobiles and trucks. Serious health problem can arise, often affecting muscles, bones, or teeth. Be on guard against accidents, robbery, and burglary. If accidents do occur, frustration, anger, fire, or emotional explosions often cause them.

PROGRESSED MARS TRINE SATURN

This progression gives you added energy, enthusiasm, and focus. Thus you can accomplish almost anything. Saturn tends to be permanent. Whatever you gain or attain during this aspect should sustain itself throughout this incarnation and into future lives. It is a powerful astral configuration that produces permanent good. Thus it is an important time for deep reflection about life — its meaning and your place within it.

Your health will improve, as will your career, and the houses ruled by Mars and Saturn. This happens because you are expressing a more mature and focused states of consciousness. Your goals will be attained during this period, or you will totally revamp your life for the better. You will be reliable and assertive. You will have tremendous drive and you will pursue your ambitions with joy and determination. But do not expect others to have the same energy and determination that you do. This will be an extremely successful cycle if you do not push the people around you too hard.

PROGRESSED MARS OPPOSITION SATURN

This is a difficult and dangerous aspect. You need to be careful of accidents involving sharp objects, machinery, or automobiles. Do not let rash or impulsive emotions dictate your actions. Beware of engaging in illegal activities driven by other people's motives or your semi-conscious emotions. Impulsive actions can have fatal or perilous consequences under this aspect, and you may not be able to correct them. In other words, they may be permanent.

This can be a very destructive aspect. Do not get irritated or angry, as it can lead to physical altercations that can be quite violent. This aspect symbolizes surgery and danger from infection. Beware of deep cuts or broken bones and dealings with the police, military, or criminal types.

PROGRESSED MARS INCONJUNCT SATURN

You are stuck in a negative attitude caused by feelings of isolation and frustration. This produces problems at work. It alienates your co-workers, and thus you feel annoyed with them. This creates stress on the job which, combined with too much work, can produce health problems. Guilt may arise related to older people, past actions, the houses ruled by Mars and Saturn, or Saturn's natal house.

PROGRESSED MARS IN ASPECT TO URANUS

PROGRESSED MARS PARALLEL URANUS

When Mars and Uranus come together, their energy is intense and unpredictable. The parallel makes your personality easily excitable and at the same time very irritable. Extreme emotions can lead to rash actions and even violence. Try to avoid arguments under this aspect. A heated discussion can turn suddenly and unexpectedly into a serious disagreement, quarrel, or even a lawsuit. Do not make changes at this time. Try not to travel, especially by plane. Be careful of accidents. Watch your head, hands, and genitals. Beware of electricity in any form.

PROGRESSED MARS CONJUNCT URANUS

This is a negative and dangerous period for making changes, though change almost always comes suddenly and unexpectedly into your life anyway. During this aspect do not travel, especially by air, if you can avoid it. Unless you exercise self-discipline and control your emotions, there will be fights and accidents. In addition to your impulsivity, danger may come from machinery, automobiles, and electricity. Looking back, you may feel this was one of the most amazing periods of your life because so many unexpected events occurred.

PROGRESSED MARS SEXTILE URANUS

Unexpected opportunities emerge suddenly during this aspect. The houses where these two planets are found and the houses they rule in the natal chart will bring sudden and radical changes. These changes will solve old and reoccurring problems you have been experiencing in your life. Determine what house the progressed Mars is in and which houses it rules. This will give you some idea about where these changes will manifest.

PROGRESSED MARS SQUARE URANUS

Many astrologers consider this to be one of the most inauspicious progressions. Unexpected difficulties arise. There are major problems and serious disturbances for which you are totally unprepared. To make matters worse, you react rashly, becoming fanatical and extreme. You need total self-control, compassion, and a cool head in order to balance the energies that are released by this aspect.

If both planets are afflicted natively, this aspect can lead to events that most people would consider devastating. Dangerous accidents can occur involving electricity, fire, or machinery. Chemicals can also be a source of danger. This explosive period will test your maturity and your spirituality. Most astrologers say that medical treatments involving drugs, electricity, or radioactive elements, such as x-rays or chemotherapy, are dangerous during this period. It is certainly a bad time for any kind of elective surgery.

PROGRESSED MARS TRINE URANUS

This is a wonderful aspect. New friends and acquaintances will come into your life. You will have the power to move forward with any project you choose, especially in the realms ruled by these two planets. It is an excellent time for making changes and improvements in your life and for traveling. It is also a beneficial time for joining organizations. You will enjoy sports, martial arts, working with your hands, and the study and practice of astrology or other arcane sciences. If you focus your mind and see what is important in your life, you will be able to release true genius.

PROGRESSED MARS OPPOSITION URANUS

Your life will go through a complete change or re-structuring during this aspect. The old will be blown away and the new will come into your life in ways you could not have expected and that you may not like. Romantic relationships, marriages, and business partnerships often come to an end, which can be devastating and catastrophic, to say the least. Problems that arise are usually related to the houses ruled by these two planets, particularly those ruled by Mars.

My guru said that the force of this aspect would draw most people away from their inner nature. Thus the external forces of life, rather than one's internal states, will control a person's life during this progression. Many astrologers say medical treatments involving radioactive elements or electricity, such as x-ray and chemotherapy, are very dangerous at this time. Like the square, it is not a good time for elective surgery.

PROGRESSED MARS INCONJUNCT URANUS

This aspect indicates health problems. They are often the result of an accident, which is caused by some type of impulsive or careless action. Your mind may be reckless and demonstrate a total disregard for safety. Your internal organs will be stressed and the muscular system strained. The nervous system may be devitalized, frequently due to guilt or remorse over some unusual or impulsive act.

PROGRESSED MARS IN ASPECT TO NEPTUNE

PROGRESSED MARS PARALLEL OR CONJUNCT NEPTUNE

These are both difficult aspects. The parallel is similar to the conjunction, but it lasts for several years on either side of the partile rather than five or six months. The sign and house in which they form reveal the deeper significance of these two aspects and the events that will manifest under them. On the auspicious side, they bring spiritual and artistic creativity. On the negative side, they indicate the potential for suffering due to other people's actions. These actions are often irresponsible and involve drugs, drinking, medication, or chemicals.

Any hard aspect involving Mars and Neptune indicates danger of slipping or falling. Problems often arise around water, usually salt water, or because of oil and oily products. There is a danger of skidding on the road or tires blowing-out. It is a time when crimes are committed against you, such as robbery, burglary, or identity theft. People may try to use you or be deceptive for their own gain. You may try to deceive someone else or be self-deceptive. This is not the best time for engaging in psychological treatments, such as hypnosis or past-life regression. The nervous system tends to get exhausted due to over stimulation. Neptune also indicates danger from poisons and chemicals.

PROGRESSED MARS SEXTILE NEPTUNE

This is a positive aspect. It indicates a pleasant period that is beneficial both socially and professionally. You will be imaginative and creative during this cycle. There is tendency to entertain more, and you have an increased desire for sensual experiences, such as drugs, alcohol, and passionate romantic encounters. This is a better time for engaging in psychological treatments. In any case, it is better than the conjunction or parallel.

PROGRESSED MARS SQUARE NEPTUNE

This is a negative and perilous period. It is generally a very emotional time associated with anxiety, vice, or trauma. You will be swamped and possibly overwhelmed with very strong and strange desires. They will awaken a range of passions in you that can run from sexual to religious. They will be confusing and probably rather destructive to your happiness. Your mind will be fickle, having strong likes and dislikes that change day-by-day if not hourly. This aspect is quite harmful because it often brings emotional, if not physical, violence into most people's lives. This is especially true if the two planets are afflicted natively, in which case this aspect can provoke dangerously self-destructive or irresponsible predispositions.

Neptune rules drugs, drinking, sex, sleep, hypnosis, and strange and irresponsible behavior. It also relates to psychological treatments, including hypnosis and past-life regression, which most astrologers say will do more harm than good under this aspect. Any time Neptune is afflicted, there is a possibility of deception and fraud, which you need to guard against so you do not get burnt. If either planet is located in the sixth house or rules the sixth, fevers, infections and debilitating problems can arise.

PROGRESSED MARS TRINE NEPTUNE

This is a positive aspect. It brings harmony into your life, while at the same time allowing you to express your deepest needs. Your intuition is strong and positive, which brings benefits, particularly in the houses ruled by Neptune and Mars. There will be opportunities for gain through large institutions, like banks and insurance companies. If the two planets are well aspected natively, it is a favorable time for treatments involving pharmaceuticals, hypnosis, and past-life regression.

PROGRESSED MARS OPPOSITION NEPTUNE

This is a dangerous and impulsive period. If you are not careful, it produces rash actions that lead to serious consequences. Secrecy, intrigue, and self-destructive habits will present problems. People may be dishonest or simply try to avoid their obligations to you. Vital tasks should be put off, if at all possible. This aspect indicates the suppression of anger or desire. Thus you need to be careful of your thoughts and examine your motives, as unconscious forces will be driving them.

There is a possibility of dangers related to large institutions, such as hospitals. Serious problems can also arise around water, gas, oil, chemicals, or contagions. This is a very negative time for traveling on or over water, particularly salt water. Drugs, alcohol, and pharmaceuticals can produce negative side effects. Difficulty sleeping may cause the body or mind to feel exhausted.

PROGRESSED MARS INCONJUNCT NEPTUNE

This aspect produces a battle between your desires and your values. You feel uncertain about your responsibilities and obligations at work or at home. They seem undefined to you, which produces stress. The people around you also seem confused or confused about what to do with you, how to handle you, or your place in the scheme of things. You will look for ways to abate the stress. Unfortunately, the pathway is generally alcohol, drugs, or overindulgence in food. All of which can weaken your health. These factors, if they get out of control, can cause problems at work and at home. Guilt manifests because of your ideals or because of aggressive thoughts and actions, producing confusion and poor judgment.

PROGRESSED MARS IN ASPECT TO PLUTO

PROGRESSED MARS PARALLEL OR CONJUNCT PLUTO

Once again, I would like to emphasize three key points about progressed parallels. First, a progressed parallel can last for years, whereas the conjunction can only last for months. Secondly, the parallel inclines during its long cycle, acting as a backdrop for all other progressions and major transits. Thirdly, the parallel does not have the determining nature of the longitudinal aspects. In other words, it needs another force, usually a lunar progression, in order to have a significant impact on the chart. (All aspects other than the parallel and contra-parallel are longitudinal aspects.)

Aspects involving both Mars and Pluto activate powerful subconscious drives that are not easy for the average person to manage. The parallel and conjunction release extreme amounts of energy, which can lead to either powerful creativity or reckless destruction. Your passions and desires become very intense. For most people, this is experienced as intense needs, sexual or otherwise. If these are not handled wisely, they can easily result in anger, frustration, violence, or illegal activities. These intense needs and emotions will manifest in the houses ruled by the two planets and the natal houses where they are found.

PROGRESSED MARS SEXTILE PLUTO

You will have the opportunity to make positive and constructive changes in your life during this aspect. This is especially true in the houses these planets rule and in the houses where they are found natively. Strong and positive subconscious drives push you to get ahead and to explore new facets of your life. It is a good time for working with your subconscious mind and for self-improvement in general. People often find themselves cleaning or remodeling their home during this cycle.

PROGRESSED MARS SQUARE PLUTO

This aspect can turn the nicest personality into a little dictator. The ego does not want to be denied. Thus it can become quite angry and aggressive. Much to your own self-destruction, you become more dominating and controlling in personal and professional relationships. So this is likely to be a period in which you have strong ego-conflicts with other people.

Pluto rules groups or crowds. Mars is the ego. When they form a square, it is a very bad time for dealing with people as a group. There will be misunderstandings and ego-battles, not one-on-one, but between you a group of people. Thus you should avoid protests, marches, sporting events, and other venues where there are large groups. Emotions can easily flare-up under this aspect. There is real danger of open hostility or violence being directed toward you or being released from your subconscious mind toward others.

There is danger of accidents that cut and burn, especially auto accidents. Stay away from fire, guns, and chemicals. This is a bad time for surgery or taking pharmaceuticals. Do not try to build or remodel a home at this time, and stay away from machinery as much as possible. Pluto also rules crime and criminals, two undesirable forces that often manifest in your life under this aspect. Protect yourself and your property.

PROGRESSED MARS TRINE PLUTO

You feel quite restless under this aspect. Thus you make changes in your life, most of which prove to be beneficial. Working with groups of people or co-operating with groups and organizations will be very beneficial. You will stand out, shine, and take on a leadership role. You can accomplish great things during this period. It is an excellent time to build or remodel, as long as the natal aspects of these two planets are positive.

PROGRESSED MARS OPPOSITION PLUTO

There will be little or no co-operation from anyone or with anyone during this aspect. In fact, negative energy may be directed toward you, or vice versa. Dealings with groups of people, including your family, will not be smooth or easy. There is danger of hostility, jealousy, aggressiveness, and even violence — real or imagined. Most of these problems will center on your drive for ego-power or sex. There will be conflicts between you and groups, as well as serious clashes between your conscious and subconscious minds. Conflicts often arise over money, taxes, joint accounts, finances, insurance, and bequeaths.

PROGRESSED MARS INCONJUNCT PLUTO

Your mind becomes too assertive and is overly ego-motivated. Your ego wants to be in control. You think you know the best way to accomplish tasks. Thus it seems to you that co-workers or your boss are constantly harassing you to do your work differently. This produces stress and anxiety, which lowers your vitality. Guilt arises over romantic and/or sexual experiences.

PROGRESSED MARS IN ASPECT TO NATAL MARS

PROGRESSED MARS SEMI-SEXTILE NATAL MARS (30°)

This aspect is mildly positive. It gives you added energy, which inspires you to begin new projects and ventures. Like all aspects involving Mars, there is the possibility of becoming too aggressive. This can cause bad blood and the loss of opportunities.

PROGRESSED MARS SEMI-SQUARE NATAL MARS (45°)

This is a mildly negative aspect, but if Mars is natively afflicted it can cause serious accidents, arguments, and conflict. You tend to be over-impulsive, and thus losses occur. Watch your ego and other people's egos. This aspect can kindle competition, jealousy, and hostility. Potential health problems include headaches, cuts and bruises, muscle strain, fevers, and infections.

PROGRESSIONS OF JUPITER, URANUS, NEPTUNE, AND PLUTO

Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, Neptune and Pluto each have such a slow daily motion (yearly by progression) that the only progressed aspects they can ever form are those that already exist in the natal horoscope. If these aspects do form by progression, they just reactivate the natal aspect. You can read a delineation of these natal aspects in any text on astrology. Because these aspects have been active all your life, you have had plenty of time and experiences to learn how to deal with them. The primary affect of the progressed aspect is that the natal aspect becomes stronger at the time of the progressed partile.
