

THE JUPITER CONJUNCTIONS

Jupiter expands whatever it encounters. It can enlarge your body or your consciousness. It all depends on where you focus Jupiter's energies. Its essential task is to cause you to merge (in consciousness) with the cosmos. Jupiter's position in the natal chart reveals where you are seeking to spiritually mature and unfold during this incarnation. Jupiter transits indicate what lessons will arise that need to be mastered in consciousness in order for you to further your spiritual unfoldment. Some astrologers feel a major transit of Jupiter indicates a definite one-year cycle or at least a cycle that is active while Jupiter moves through that particular house or sign.

Jupiter symbolizes your complete view of life. Its force expands your consciousness and assists you in seeking to reach your highest possible ideals for this incarnation. It is called the Greater Benefic because even its squares and oppositions are not that difficult to handle, at least not compared to those of the other outer planets. Even a hard Jupiter transit brings some advantage or benefit.

Jupiter's influence inspires people to study and become engrossed in philosophy, religion, or spiritual practice. If the natal Jupiter and its transit are both positive, it gives you a sense of contentment and satisfaction. Because your life settles down, it reveals what you desire. If the natal Jupiter and its transit are both negative, it produces a restlessness that makes one careless when trying to expand your dreams and goals. This often includes spending more money than is wise. A hard Jupiter aspect makes you overly optimistic and irresponsible, causing people to see you as egotistical, haughty, and patronizing.

Normally Jupiter's active period is twenty minutes on either side of an aspect. But if it goes station-point close to partile, its orb of influence may change from twenty minutes to one degree, which can extend its window of activity from six weeks on either side of a partile to ten weeks on either side. My Guru suggested using six weeks.

JUPITER CONJUNCT THE ASCENDANT

Your personality feels free, generous, happy, jovial, and compassionate, which will bring positive relationships of all kinds into your life. This makes your life fruitful and produces benefits not only in the first house but also in the house where the planet that rules the ascendant is found. Many new relationships manifest and those that already exist become deeper and more meaningful.

There is a profound interest in philosophy, religion, and foreign cultures. This interest will most likely be sparked by new acquaintances who are more educated, successful, and powerful than you. This is a magnificent time to learn from them. The door of opportunity opens, allowing you to increase your assets and improve your life.

There are two small problems associated with this transit. The first is you can become overly optimistic, which can go to your head and make you appear conceited and egotistical. The second is weight gain, which if the ascendant is a water sign (or the ruler of the ascendant is in a water sign), may not be a small problem.

JUPITER CONJUNCT THE SUN

Transiting Jupiter over the natal Sun makes you optimistic. If the Sun is well aspected natively, it improves your vitality and brings added prestige. A greater degree of social success can be expected. Thus, you should be able to accomplish much more than usual. The danger of this aspect is you feel so positive and confident about your life that you just sit back and do nothing, which permits the heavier aspects to take over.

This aspect has great spiritual significance. It signals the beginning of a new twelve-year cycle of philosophical or spiritual unfoldment. If you put forth effort and apply self-discipline, you will be able to attain a large degree of freedom. It is an excellent time for starting new plans or expanding ongoing endeavors. It is also a good time for delving into new or deeper courses of study. However, like most Jupiter aspects, there is a risk of becoming excessive or wasteful. The greatest challenge of this conjunction is not overestimating yourself, particularly if Jupiter and the Sun are afflicted natively.

JUPITER CONJUNCT THE MOON

This transit causes the mind to become compassionate and generous. It produces strong emotions and brings success through dealings with women and the general public. There will be greater cooperation between you and other people, and appreciation will flow in both directions. Women, children, and the public will help you fulfill your dreams and goals.

Your domestic life becomes more important under this aspect. If Jupiter and the moon are well aspected in the natal chart, your home life will become heaven. You will put more energy and effort into it. Thus, it will noticeably improve, as will the house ruled by the Moon. Your health and vitality usually improve during this aspect as well, with one exception — the possibility of gaining excess weight.

JUPITER CONJUNCT MERCURY

This transit links your mind's ability to think, reason, and pay attention to detail, with Jupiter's ability to see the big picture and have an overview of events. Thus it is a propitious time to plan your future. Your disposition becomes optimistic and bubbly under this aspect. There is a strong drive to improve your life in many different ways. Everything you put your mind to expands and unfolds. What you do, you do with gusto.

People become deeply interested in philosophy, religion, study, and travel. Benefits come through the study of law, religion, and foreign cultures. Your powers of communication are superb, as is your ability to persuade people to your way of thinking. But all can be lost if you do not maintain your focus.

JUPITER CONJUNCT VENUS

This aspect produces an appreciation of beauty, art, romance, and culture. You will value the devotional and romantic. Making friends and new acquaintances will be easy. Difficulties that have arisen in the past (or that may be occurring now) in business or personal relationships will rapidly be corrected and harmonized. Peaceful thoughts and the unfolding of your soul awaken your consciousness and propel you toward greater happiness. The two difficulties that can arise are overindulgence in food and drink and a tendency to waste or fritter away your wealth.

JUPITER CONJUNCT MARS

This conjunction makes you waver and become impulsive. It causes you to become irritable because you feel people are unsympathetic. Your own attitude and point of view are likely to be inharmonious and contrary to those around you. Exaggeration will create complications. This aspect energizes your body, which makes it restless and very active. Therefore, you take more chances than usual, which can lead to accidents. Nonetheless, this is an excellent period to work on a project or take on extra assignments.

This transit can indicate emotional complications or health problems that can include headaches, fever, high blood pressure, infection, and stomach or digestive trouble. Because you find work so enjoyable, you may not realize how stressed your body has become or how much energy you have consumed. Thus, you should seek more quiet and avoid excessive or unnecessary excitement under this aspect.

JUPITER CONJUNCT JUPITER

The Jupiter return produces a cheerful personality. You feel that expanding and improving your life is all-important. If Jupiter is well aspected natively, it will be a twelve-year high point in your work and home environments that will improve your physical and financial health. This is a period during which people come into your life to make it better and help you mature. It is also a time when you can invest or speculate successfully. This is especially true if the natal chart suggests it and if you do not overextend yourself.

If the natal Jupiter is well aspected, this is the beginning of a new and positive twelve-year cycle, during which the house Jupiter is in natively and the house it rules will expand. There will be a tendency for you to put your good fortune and insight to work helping and serving others, which brings added benefits and blessings.

If the natal Jupiter is afflicted, the person is likely to be careless, which can cost them money. Problems with lawyers, doctors, and religious leaders may manifest. Difficulties that arise will come from the planet that afflicts Jupiter and will manifest in the house this planet occupies and in the house it rules. There is weakness in the aura when Jupiter is afflicted. Thus, a person is more easily led astray. Health problems can occur in the organs of purification, such as the gallbladder and liver.

JUPITER CONJUNCT SATURN

This transit can facilitate the removal of long-standing complications and difficult circumstances. It also produces heavy emotional vacillations and can cause fluctuations in financial matters as well. It is usually a period of physical gain, though some sacrifice is required. You will find that what seemed to be a positive and temporary event becomes a permanent part of your life, though not necessarily as positive as you thought. You will question the reasons for your own self-imposed restraints and also the reason for external limitations that are imposed upon you or that you think have been imposed upon you. You will become aware of the difference between what you consider to be positive and what you consider negative. You will come to understand more clearly what is temporary and what is permanent and move in the direction of that which is positive and permanent in life.

Mystically speaking, transiting Jupiter conjunct transiting Saturn is the one of the most important cycles of life. Saturn is the Cosmic Order of the universe. Jupiter is the Lawgiver. Some mystics call Saturn "The Law" and Jupiter "The Lawgiver." Every twenty years the Lawgiver comes into conjunction with the Cosmic Order and picks up a new law for humanity, which will be in effect for the next twenty years. This new law is passed on to humanity from the Cosmic Law of the manifested universe. It applies both to the world you live within and to you as an individual.

Pay close attention to where the last Jupiter-Saturn conjunction manifested by house, sign, and aspect. That house and any aspects the conjunction made tell you on which law you need to focus your awareness until the next conjunction. Look to see what the next order will be. How much time is left before the law changes again? What old law needs to be given up, and how should it be given up? What new law must now be followed?

JUPITER CONJUNCT URANUS

On a mystical and evolutionary level, this conjunction raises and expands your consciousness. Transiting Jupiter conjunct Uranus produces a mental attitude that enables you to improve your mind and expand your consciousness through new thoughts, ingenious methods, and electronic technologies. This aspect brings many surprises and unexpected opportunities. You will seek greater freedom, which is good. The problem is that in so doing you may fail to meet your responsibilities.

This transit makes you idealistic. Thus, you redirect your life energies to improve your social and cultural environment. It often brings what is called a lucky break. You are in the right place at the right time — a sudden positive job opening occurs, a boon is offered, or you meet a person who improves your life or assists in the fulfillment of your dream. Events may arise that compel long-distance travel. A remarkable trip may improve your life forever. Events and benefits that occur during this cycle tend to be transient unless you work hard and make the effort that is required to lock them into your life.

JUPITER CONJUNCT NEPTUNE

This cycle can be sublime or disorienting. On the outer planes, this transit can manifest as deception or self-deception. On the inner planes, it can manifest as overindulgence, particularly in food, drink, or drugs. However, it can also be a powerful spiritual aspect, which releases great compassion and inspires the pursuit of higher ideals. Your understanding of the arcane and esoteric will unfold. You will shift your focus away from attaining worldly success and reach toward inner success, seeking the deeper meaning of life.

This aspect releases great creativity in a spiritually or artistically sensitive person. The spiritual experiences realized during this cycle will be peak experiences, yet there are two potential difficulties that need to be watched. The first is overindulgence, especially with alcohol or drugs. The second is daydreaming, which can be excessive and lead to danger or loss because of self-deception or irresponsibility.

JUPITER CONJUNCT PLUTO

This conjunction causes you to become committed to your own ideals and produces a strong motivation to reach your goals. It gives the energy, drive, and the ability to become an important leader. You will be determined to enjoy life to its fullest.

THE MARS CONJUNCTIONS

The transits of Mars, Venus, Mercury, and the Sun and Moon move so rapidly that they are comparatively insignificant. In most cases, their influence lasts only a day or two. Their effect is more of a triggering device than anything else. Mars is the most potent trigger of all these planets and its conjunction the most significant.

The danger of a Mars aspect is greatest when the expression of its energy is psychologically thwarted or foiled. This causes its energies to seek expression or manifestation on a physical level, which can be the genesis of many accidents or illnesses that involve infection and fever. (This is even truer of Pluto.) The secret to softening a Mars or Pluto transit is learning to cope with the everyday stress and strain they produce before it turns into anger and resentment and to find a constructive release for their energies.

With the exception of the Mars return and Mars over the Moon, I suggest you use two days before a partile and one day after as its orb of influence. This gives a dynamic period of four days. But remember that Mars tends to fire early. There are four significant Mars cycles that you specifically want to watch and examine.

1. Mars Conjunct Natal Mars

A Mars return is active for two weeks before partile and one week after. People become rash, impulsive, and accident-prone, depending on the nature of the natal Mars.

2. Mars Conjunct the Natal Moon

This transit is active for ten days before and seven days after the partile. A person will be restless, temperamental, and irritable at this time, which leads to fights and conflicts.

3. Mars Conjunct the Ruler of the Chart or Star of Destiny (other than the sun)

The transit of Mars over these two planets produces the same basic emotional effect as a Mars return — rashness, irritability, and impulsiveness. Where this emotion gets directed will depend on the house position and rulership of these two key natal planets.

4. Mars Conjunct the Angular House Cusps (1st, 4th, 7th or 10th)

A Mars transit over one of these sensitive points will stimulate that specific area of your life. Be sure that the time of birth is accurate to within two minutes, or your calculation for the partile can be off by over a week.

It might be useful to point out once again that a transit is more forceful when it occurs close to a station-point. This is especially true of the faster moving planets. Transits are also more powerful if they occur on your birthday. Transits that partile months away from your birthday are less forceful.

MARS CONJUNCT THE ASCENDANT

Effects of this transit:

1. Produces conflict and anger.
2. Causes you to be crabby and irritable.
3. Produces a desire to dictate and control people and situations.
4. Causes physical stress and strain.
5. Produces pain in the part of the body ruled by the ascending sign.

The house ruled by Mars will be in conflict with your personality for a few days. It is critical to recognize that your attitude is 51% of the problem. One way of dealing with this transit is to ask yourself why you are frustrated. Correct this, and everything else will improve. A good way of working off the excess energy of this aspect is through sports and physical exercise, but be cautious of going to extremes so you do not hurt yourself. There is a danger of accidents during this cycle that can produce cuts, burns, or bruises on parts of the body ruled by the ascendant.

MARS CONJUNCT THE MOON

Transiting Mars over the Moon causes friction, quarrels, and conflicts with people who are symbolized by the house where the Moon is natally and the house it rules. Fire and water make steam, and your personality will tend to steam over everything for a few days. Frustration is usually directed toward family members and close friends. Problems often arise in the home environment because of emotional over-sensitivity or through women and children. If the planets are well aspected natally, it indicates a very busy time and the possibility of travel.

MARS CONJUNCT THE SUN

This transit activates the house where the Sun is located and the house it rules. It also energizes the natal Sun and its aspects, often indicating new trends and actions. But it can be a difficult few days for a couple of reasons. The first is conflicts caused by excessive ego (usually yours). The second is you will be in too much of a hurry. Rushing around often causes accidents and poor quality work and conflicts because people working at a slower pace irritate you. If these two planets are afflicted natally, it produces disputes, extravagance, and ego-motivated power struggles with authoritarian figures.

MARS CONJUNCT MERCURY

This conjunction makes your mind active but critical. Problems occur as a result of rash speech, traveling, or signing or not signing documents. Fights and conflicts arise because of something that is said (usually by you). You get upset, angry, and explode over nothing and everything. Driving can be dangerous because you tend to speed and are more reckless and aggressive than usual. If afflicted, this aspect brings annoyances and headaches.

MARS CONJUNCT VENUS

This aspect brings romance, pleasure, and social entertainment. You will be noticeably more interested in love and sexuality for a few days. Delays or hindrances can cause you to become enraged. If Mars goes station-point as it conjuncts Venus, it often symbolizes the beginning of a passionate love affair, which will be distressing and temporary. If afflicted, it produces extravagance, dissipation, and difficulties with lovers or intimate friends.

MARS CONJUNCT MARS

The Mars return occurs approximately every two years. It indicates a period of impulsiveness and rash activity that can lead to confrontation and accidents. Many people feel this dangerous cycle is exceedingly exciting. It certainly produces a tremendous amount of energy. But if this energy is not channeled or directed in a positive way, you will explode. Physical exercise — as long as it does not become extreme or excessive — is one of the best ways of properly expressing the energy of this aspect.

The greatest danger of this aspect is strong emotion that produces feelings of resentment. Deal with these emotions skillfully. They usually arise because of egocentric desires that are frustrated or denied. You want to be careful of your actions during this conjunction because six months from now, when the transiting Mars squares the natal Mars, you will realize the fruits of your actions. The window of activity for Mars conjunct Mars, in terms of being impulsive, begins about two weeks before the partile and lasts for about one week after.

MARS CONJUNCT JUPITER

This conjunction is an excellent period for any type of physical labor or sport. Energy levels are very high. You are restless and desire adventure and exciting activity.

The danger of this heightened level of energy is that it can lead to taking chances or being reckless because you think you can do anything. This reckless attitude can interfere with your personal life, your job, and your financial well-being because it often leads to gambling or financial speculation.

MARS CONJUNCT SATURN

This transit activates the natal Saturn, which can bring problems with older people and authoritarian figures. It can indicate difficulties with parents, an employer, or in one's career. People around you, particularly at work, irritate you. Conditions on the job will frustrate you. You have great powers of concentration at this time; you can rapidly complete tasks that require concentration and energy, and do them well. If Mars is heavily afflicted, complications, delays, and danger can arise from automobile accidents, machinery, broken bones, or health problems caused by infection.

MARS CONJUNCT URANUS

This aspect triggers Uranus with the force of Mars. It produces impulsive action, quarrels, and the possibility of dangerous accidents. It is the perfect transit for shocking occurrences and explosive behavior. These usually occur without any warning. You need to control your impulsive reaction to events, especially if Mars or Uranus is afflicted natively. Problems often occur with electricity or electronic equipment. Be very careful if either of these planets is linked to the fourth house. Mars/Uranus can indicate an electrical fire. It is not a safe time for having any kind of x-rays.

MARS CONJUNCT NEPTUNE

This transit generates three types of transient emotions: a vague, but extreme feeling of irritability, a hazy feeling of inferiority, and a fuzzy feeling of being haunted. It can bring difficulties through chemicals, organic liquids, and even water. You want to be especially careful around saltwater, as accidents can occur. Be cautious of slipping or falling. This aspect can cause infection, fever, or exhaustion. There is also a tendency toward overindulgence. Avoid seafood or foods cooked in oil for a few days because they may make you sick. If well aspected, this transit can produce mystical or artistic experiences and bring added creativity into your life.

MARS CONJUNCT PLUTO

This aspect is similar to transiting Mars conjunct Mars. The difference is that Pluto is more intense. It becomes repetitious and involves more people. When Mars transits Mars, you may have a conflict with one or two people. When it transits Pluto, you are likely to have reoccurring problems with groups of people. This aspect produces an aggressive stimulus that causes you to become ambitious, but the effects of this ambition are negative because the aspect releases too much disruptive energy and your actions easily become manipulative or even violent. You will respond ruthlessly to any perceived limitations that are caused by people, circumstances, or events.

If both planets are hard and angular in the natal chart, you need to be careful of being assaulted. This aspect manifests every other year so you can look back and see what happened many times over the past twenty years. This will tell you a great deal about the Pluto karma in your chart. Unless you do something to soften or neutralize this karma, the experience of the conjunction will repeat itself. Even if your Pluto is well aspected, it is advisable to stay away from dangerous places and emotional people during the few days this aspect is active. The greatest threat will most likely arise from an intense dispute caused by an ego conflict. It is an excellent time to get heavy work done but go slowly and do not get careless or accidents might occur.

THE PLUTO OPPOSITIONS

PLUTO OPPOSITION THE SUN

This is a stressful cycle. You get caught up in power struggles. Sadly they are often with people whom you respect and who are crucial in your life. Recklessness or impulsiveness will cause you to make serious errors. If you are autocratic or dictatorial, you will meet with strong opposition. The nature of this transit requires you to exert your utmost energy and manifest your finest abilities to respond in a positive way. If handled skillfully, it can bring great accomplishments. But it is highly likely that you will be too authoritarian with others, and therefore they will oppose you. This only serves to make you more fixed in your erroneous attitude, which is "I won't give an inch."

You need deep, continuous, and constructive self-evaluation during this cycle. There is probably going to be a battle of egos or a struggle of wills. Do not lock horns. Offer less resistance. But be careful you are not persuaded to go against your better judgment. People will experience you as being egotistical and dictatorial. They are probably right but even if they are wrong — do not react. Do not get stubborn and reckless, as this will cause you to make grave blunders. This is not a favorable time for love and romance, as you are far too insensitive, cold-hearted, and calculating. It is also a bad time for dealing with authoritarian figures or people in positions of power and responsibility so approach them wisely and cautiously.

PLUTO OPPOSITION THE MOON

Your home life becomes emotional, hectic, and encounters disturbances, usually because of your emotionality. Early childhood memories that were repressed because they were negative or painful now come back into full consciousness, adding to the disruption in your home. All of this makes it hard for you to say no. The more you should say it, the harder it becomes.

Experiences from childhood or from past-lives rise up out of the subconscious and make the conscious mind emotional, which makes it impossible to see clearly. There will be conflicts with family, most likely your parents. It is a difficult aspect for dealing with women, children, and the public. Any interplay with these souls will definitely affect you. Most of your problems will occur because you are perceived as insensitive.

PLUTO OPPOSITION MERCURY

This opposition is a time of intense mental activity that is not positive. You feel isolated so you turn into yourself and your emotions. There is a drive to gain deeper knowledge through study and education. Correspondence and contracts will be significant. Your mind will be restless and disturbed. Advice that is given could be bad and put you in a difficult situation. Problems arise between you and others because your communications are faulty. People feel you are being dishonest, scathing, and judgmental. Communications fail because you become too fixed and prejudiced. It would be best if you concentrated on your own problems and left other people in peace. Being nosey will definitely cause conflict.

Be careful of signing anything under this aspect because serious consequences can arise. Do not become a guarantor or sign a letter saying you are responsible if someone fails to pay a debt or fulfill an obligation. They will not meet their obligation, and you will be held responsible. Be careful of serious errors in judgment. You need to slow down during this transit. The primary dangers come from poor judgment caused by being in too big a hurry and an inability to communicate effectively. These two factors will have far-reaching effects on your life. Powerful forces are acting on you, internally and externally. They will produce stress so you need to watch your nervous system and digestion. Problems that do arise are usually with family and neighbors.

PLUTO OPPOSITION VENUS

Be careful of trying to “fix” or change your spouse or business partner. Trying to control them will get you into trouble every time. Your mind will run the gamut of negative poisons. The subconscious coughs up powerful emotions ranging from possessiveness, fear, love, resentment, and jealousy to straight-out hate. It is a time when your romantic urges are strong yet dangerous because of where they lead you. There is danger of secret meetings or sexual liaisons that could prove to be your downfall. It is not a good time to go into a partnership of any kind. If you do, be careful with all financial transactions. An emotional crisis often arises that can produce separation or the loss of a dear friend or family member.

PLUTO OPPOSITION MARS

This transit is energy opposition energy, and both planets symbolize low vibrational force-fields. You will find that you can explode much too readily. You will come into contact with strong emotions, such as hostility, resentment, and jealousy. It is quite common to experience aggressive and even violent impulses. Be extremely careful not to get mentally or emotionally upset. You need to exercise tremendous self-control or you will find yourself getting into serious arguments and disagreements that have the potential to become physical altercations.

Cooperation does not manifest at this time; everyone seems to be in competition and using ego-power to get their way. Your mind will be intensely and dynamically moved by various desires, including sexual passion. Stay away from people or circumstances that breed emotionality. This transit can also produce serious money problems that relate to a partner, spouse, or jointly held assets. It can indicate the loss of someone near to you. Serious infections or accidents can occur, usually caused by impulsiveness or carelessness. Be careful of weapons, knives, flames, machinery, and sharp instruments. Accidents are highly likely, and Mars/Pluto can indicate surgery.

PLUTO OPPOSITION JUPITER

This is a time of expansion and transformation but you must be careful and use skillful means. Your faith in people will be tested during this transit. The dangers are that you will overcommit yourself, overextend your finances, and exhaust your energy and resources. Your mind wants to expand itself through travel and study. Religion or philosophy will play an important part in your life during this aspect and for some time to come. Your philosophy of life could be totally transformed. Be careful of being deceived; be cautious that you are not deceptive, knowingly or unknowingly; and beware of self-deception. Cooperation is the key.

PLUTO OPPOSITION SATURN

This is a time of intense testing, which requires great self-discipline. You may project a mood that is cruel or intimidates others and demands obedience. It is also possible that cruelty or intimidation will be directed toward you. You will work harder than you ever have before. If you are unselfish and use skillful means, you can also accomplish more than ever. It is an excellent cycle for serious study and reflection.

This transit is a time when you need to be realistic and practice renunciation. Put your personal drives in second place for the good of those around you. Avoid going into debt. Financial and emotional self-denial practiced during this period will prove to be a positive force in your future. Pay off your moral debts or they will be a handicap for years to come.

People around you will cause you worry and concern. Those who are poor, sick, or depressed will present an added challenge. The people with whom you work or live may be coercive, overly compliant, or offer passive resistance. This adds to your difficulties. Despite this, you are probably unwilling or unable to break free of unhealthy relationships. This is a time to realize that loneliness and aloneness are two different experiences.

This transit symbolizes the breakdown of old patterns and responsibilities and the establishment of new ones. This can be quite emotional and stressful. Though circumstances in your life are probably going to be restrictive and repressive to your ambitions, it is important to cooperate with the group or team of which you are part for everyone's benefit. If you cooperate with others and carry out common goals, it will set a precedent for greater efficiency and accomplishment in the future. If you are thorough, conscientious, disciplined, and enterprising, this aspect can be a catalyst that helps you break free of your limitations.

PLUTO OPPOSITION URANUS

This transit ruptures relationships. Existing partnerships end and new but often unstable relationships are established. Old doors close and new ones open. Old friendships dissolve away and new friends come into your life. Intense, sudden, and erratic changes transpire because of these new acquaintances. These changes, which occur both within you and around you, may not be easy to live with. Problems that occur are mainly caused by your impatience and haste, which often lead to recklessness.

Past goals seem meaningless to you now. You seek new dreams and goals, which will arise after the chaos has cleared. The erratic and unpredictable changes that enter your life will make you think about powers greater than yourself. New dimensions open up and offer you an opportunity to develop deeper spiritual values. This aspect suggests that you may need to return (actually or psychologically) to your past and resolve unfinished business so you can move on with your spiritual life. A new and lofty awareness is manifesting within you. Remember to keep one foot on the earth as you soar to higher places.

PLUTO OPPOSITION NEPTUNE

This transit indicates there is danger from drugs, pharmaceuticals, alcohol, and sugar. It also manifests difficulties associated with infection, fever, and slipping or falling. Food poisoning is possible, especially from seafood or bad cooking oil. You will have vivid dreams, which in truth are not dreams but an astral awareness. You may find these “dreams” disturbing. Be cautious of getting disorientated or becoming fanatical because of the experience.

People who come into your life at this time will be related to the house that Neptune rules. They are people from your past. Be careful of getting too involved in group karma from the past. Watch out for self-deception or being deceived. Beware of hypnosis, hypnotists, or things like neurolinguistic programming. Do it yourself. Be positive.

PLUTO OPPOSITION PLUTO

This transit takes about 122 years to form. Therefore, it will not normally manifest in a person’s life.

THE NEPTUNE OPPOSITIONS

NEPTUNE OPPOSITION THE SUN

Neptune is illusion or delusion. Thus, personal relationships often dissolve during this aspect because of unrealistic expectations. This transit indicates the potential for major miscommunication or deception. You feel that you are not appreciated, that you are in an environment that is severe and disappointing. Be cautious of heavy misunderstandings between you and people in positions of power or authority. Watch what you say so these people do not get the impression that you are trying to deceive them. Most importantly, do not deceive yourself. The best way to do this is to keep at least one foot on the ground at all times.

NEPTUNE OPPOSITION THE MOON

Women and children cause you emotional distress because of what you consider to be dishonesty. People do not give you the consideration and approval you feel they should. But the real problem is your hypersensitivity and your sulkiness. These two emotions can generate serious problems in your home environment and with family. Difficulties that occur will be hard to resolve because of confusion and vague emotions among the people involved, especially you. It is a bad time to make changes or move. Protect your home from water damage and beware of accidents on or near water.

NEPTUNE OPPOSITION MERCURY

During this transit, problems arise that are caused by poor communication or a mental vagueness that makes it hard to distinguish fact from imagination. Focusing on a task and concentrating on an idea become difficult. You may periodically experience confusion or "attention frailty," which can drive you away from work and social activities. Beware of exaggeration as it can cause problems. Watch out for schemes. Your judgment is not good when it comes to business. Your logic is breaking down and if you do not control it, you will drown in your own problems. Clarity of purpose is the most important attribute to cultivate at this time.

NEPTUNE OPPOSITION VENUS

Venus symbolizes love and money. Romance and love affairs need to be watched closely. Illusion wants to take over, and if it does, there will be no end to your problems.

You will seek the path of least resistance and try to follow it, but to be passive now is dangerous. Put your energy into art, not love. Be careful of forming a personal or business attachment that causes someone to become dependent on you because it will be unhealthy for everyone involved. Money flows through your fingers like water during this transit. Put the brakes on or you will spend far more than is wise.

NEPTUNE OPPOSITION MARS

Major problems arise because of bad habits like drinking, drugs, or irresponsibility. You may be the one exhibiting these behaviors or it may be someone else. This is often a period of embittered disenchantment, which can easily lead to hopelessness. It is a poor time to begin a project. Accidents, delays, and difficulties manifest. Be careful of your religious ideals because you are likely to become obsessive and overzealous, which can cause other problems. Delusions can lead to acts of violence or to accidents that can affect your nervous system.

NEPTUNE OPPOSITION JUPITER

Beware of getting involved in unusual conflicts that can turn into bizarre or unexpected legal battles. Be careful when dealing with foreigners or foreign cultures. Long distance travel can bring legal problems or exceptional expenses. Professional people can cause problems because of their neglect or lack of knowledge. You feel that your life has to expand and you wish to increase your knowledge of the world and events. This is good, but stay focused and do not take on too many things at the same time. People with religious or philosophical views different from yours will enter your life. Guard yourself against manipulation, deception or fraud. Be cautious of naive and irresponsible people.

NEPTUNE OPPOSITION SATURN

This cycle generally requires hard work with little or no rewards. No one seems to appreciate your efforts. The house Saturn rules will be the source of some difficult experiences, but the biggest problem with this opposition is that it causes the mind to grasp onto groundless anxiety and fear. For some, this leads to depression followed by a state of confusion and disorientation. Some people pour themselves into their work because confusion and fear drive them to seek safety and security there. Others will seek security in occult or religious thought.

What is happening mystically is that Neptune is dissolving away the organization, structure, and fixity of Saturn in your life. The question is which structures in your life are spiritually healthy and which are not? If you cling to those that have become impediments to your spiritual growth, this aspect can be frustrating and confusing. However, if you handle it skillfully, this opposition can restructure your perception of life and allow you to perceive a subtler world, a realm that is the substratum of the physical universe.

NEPTUNE OPPOSITION URANUS

This is a disorienting period during which diffuse karma flows from many sources. It unsettles your consciousness, which causes people to make sudden, radical changes. This transit represents both a revolution and evolution in consciousness. You will have deep insights during this opposition. Thus, changes will manifest in your inner world. In time, these changes will crystallize into your external universe as well.

The secret to softening this aspect is to become capable of adapting immediately to changing circumstances without fear and anxiety. It will be difficult now because this aspect produces a psychological limbo of doubt and confusion. Thus, the key words are clarity and patience. Try to wait for the aspect to pass before making significant changes. It will end as fast as it began. When it does, that will be the time to take action based on the insights that arose. That is the time to produce the desired effect in your life.

If your mind is normally unstable, this will be a period of extreme instability. Even a stable person should expect anxiety, confusion, and sudden outbursts of emotionality. Health problems can arise because of neurological abnormalities, x-rays, electromagnetic treatments, or radioactive substances that are ingested for tests. Stay balanced and do not go to extremes.

NEPTUNE OPPOSITION NEPTUNE

This transit manifests in your early eighties, usually somewhere between eighty and eighty-four. It affects people in different ways. Some simply withdraw from the world and begin to move into their inner mind. This can bring forth deep and intense spiritual truths. The everyday mind is likely to draw up memories of your early years — joys, successes, and possibly disappointments. There may be some fantasizing during which you reshape these past events to be more to your liking. The people around you may feel your mind is losing its focus or becoming senile. However, if Neptune is well aspected natively, your mind will become more creative, idealistic, and mystical.

NEPTUNE OPPOSITION PLUTO

Depending on when a person is born, this transit occurs somewhere between their early fifties and early seventies. It brings mental difficulties or problems with the brain, especially if the planets are in or rule the third, fourth, or sixth house. This aspect releases forces that reveal parts of your life that you would prefer remain hidden. These forces can also turn inward and reveal things about your personality that you would prefer not to see. The more you resist looking at these traits, the stronger these emotions and problems become.

Things are not necessarily what they appear to be during this opposition. It is a time to be careful of blindly accepting or trusting people and circumstances. They may not be trying to deceive you, but you may be deceiving yourself. The key reason for this is you are impulsive. Having said that, this aspect can bring magnificent spiritual insight and understanding, especially if either of these planets are in or rule the eighth or ninth house.

THE URANUS OPPOSITIONS

URANUS OPPOSITION THE SUN

You become more dissatisfied, willful, and erratic in your habits. You feel boxed in so you radically seek to express your “rights.” This causes major disagreements or clashes with bosses, family members, or people in positions of authority. These conflicts can very easily result in the loss of a job or partner. The house ruled by Leo will experience radical changes and upheaval. Any change you make during this transit is likely to cause even greater disruptions. If change comes to you (that is, comes into your life without any conscious effort or action on your part), it will probably be less disruptive. Be exceptionally careful when dealing with any representative or employee of the federal government.

URANUS OPPOSITION THE MOON

The Moon symbolizes change and Uranus symbolizes radical change. Thus, this transit indicates a period of extreme instability, especially in your domestic and personal life. Women and children can be the cause of major changes. The key force you need to control is your own emotionality. If you can do that, it will help you handle the changes and adjust to them more readily. But watch out — you are likely to be moody and have a negative disposition.

The most extreme changes are likely to occur in your family life. This is not a good time for pregnancy or childbearing. Health problems related to the breasts, stomach, and development of cells can arise. Damage to your home or apartment from freakish storms or water could occur. Beware of danger from lightning, electricity, and x-rays.

URANUS OPPOSITION MERCURY

Your mind speeds up and it seems impossible to stop it. This can bring psychosis or creative genius. In either event, you will find it hard to slow down. Therefore, falling asleep becomes difficult. A new personality is emerging because of new radical thoughts that will enhance your life. Your job, home, and living conditions become more complex and volatile because of erratic thinking patterns. People around you who are also unstable could intensify the situation. An unforeseen announcement or message could bring major changes into your life. Anything you say, promise, or sign will have an unparalleled effect on you. Problems with electronic equipment often arise.

URANUS OPPOSITION VENUS

Your love life will be (or try to be) innovative and irregular. This can cause your social life to become unstable. Strong emotions can break up existing relationships. Erratic and socially unacceptable attitudes will cause your love life to go through disruptive and potentially radical changes. Some people want two or more lovers at the same time.

The other way this transit fires is that the person you are living with suddenly has new and radical ideas about love and sexuality. Their attitudes change so drastically that they appear unreliable or untrustworthy. You also need to watch your finances under this aspect because you may tend to be extravagant and spend too much.

URANUS OPPOSITION MARS

This powerful and potentially dangerous transit causes you to become angry, restless, aggressive, and difficult. The unpredictable energy of Uranus is obstructing the ego drive of Mars. You feel your freedom is being cut off so you react violently and unreasonably. This brings problems into your personal and business life, possibly causing the loss of a position or job. Rash and impulsive thoughts or actions can cause the loss of a friendship or partner.

All of this can be equally true of the people around you, particularly those who are symbolized by the houses which these two planets rule, but especially the house Mars rules. Be cautious in your interactions with these people. Because you are restless and impulsive, you are not paying attention to details. This makes you accident-prone, which in extreme situations, may require surgery. Beware of fire and hot objects. Stay away from weapons, sharp tools, machinery, and areas of potential violence during this aspect.

URANUS OPPOSITION JUPITER

The door of opportunity opens suddenly during this transit but closes even faster. If you know what you want in life, this door represents major opportunity and benefit. If you do not, you will not jump through fast enough. Events happen very rapidly during this transit so you have very little time to think about how to react to them. You act and something happens, you hesitate and problems arise. Unexpected difficulties can manifest with lawyers, doctors, foreigners, or religious people.

The best way to describe this opposition is to say that it brings sudden benefits or sudden loss. It all depends on the natal aspects of the two planets. There will definitely be a sudden change in your attitude. You will feel the need to expand your education and resources. You may begin to think that life is a gamble and start taking risks. There is a tendency to be careless and not pay attention to important details or critical decisions, especially medical or legal. Health problems that arise often affect the blood or liver.

URANUS OPPOSITION SATURN

Uranus ruptures what Saturn builds. People, events, and associations you thought would be in your life forever suddenly disappear like a flash of lightning. Old ways and methods no longer work effectively and are not emotionally satisfying. Thus, new methods and attitudes need to be applied. You can feel quite apprehensive during this transit because you are not sure what will happen next. There are often problems with older people, people in positions of authority, or people who are unstable.

On the positive side, unexpected changes can take place that lead to advancement. This aspect will definitely bring plenty of hard work and exertion. When Uranus and Saturn come together, they produce a dynamic tension. If you remain calm and relaxed, it will reduce the potential for stress and strain, thus minimizing the possibility of health problems.

URANUS OPPOSITION URANUS

Transiting Uranus forms an opposition to itself when you are in your early forties, usually between forty and forty-four. It symbolizes a transitional cycle. You stand balanced at this time between your future and your past. Only radical change will move you forward or backward. Sudden and unexpected events will come into your life. Circumstances will arise in unexpected ways, and you must learn to adjust and adapt. You may move or change your job, which can put stress on your personal and professional life. Any radical change will intensely affect the house ruled by Uranus.

Nothing begun under this transit works out as planned, especially in the house area ruled by Aquarius. If new relationships are formed, they will be unstable. If Uranus is afflicted, projects you are working on will experience deviations and setbacks, and they will only be completed after radical alterations. Beware of hazards from forces ruled by Uranus such as electricity, electronics, and x-rays. Avoid extreme actions and reactions. This is not the best time to fly in an airplane.

URANUS OPPOSITION NEPTUNE

Depending on the relationship between Uranus and Neptune in the natal chart, this transit occurs at different times for different generations. Your reaction to this aspect will depend on what you have learned thus far in this incarnation. If your attitude toward life has been materialistic and egocentric, this transit will bring disorientation into your life, particularly in the houses ruled by Neptune and Uranus.

Events that enter your life will confuse you. You will not grasp the meaning of the situations in which you find yourself or understand why these circumstances exist in your life. You or one of your newer friends may become unrealistic and begin to chase the ghosts of the past. However, if you have learned that life exists beyond you and is not dependent on your beliefs, you will attune to the higher vibrations of this transit, which bring meaningful mystical insight and wisdom.

URANUS OPPOSITION PLUTO

This transit reveals whether you have found balance and unity between your conscious mind and subconscious mind — between your consciousness and higher consciousness. Powerful forces from your subconscious ego will awaken. For better or worse, they will float to the surface of your mind. If you exercise self-discipline and have learned to adjust to the changing situations you experience in life, you will be fine. If you have not learned to adjust and adapt, you may find this aspect very upsetting. Deep subconscious changes are occurring. They will be triggered by your reaction to unexpected and disruptive events or by upsetting information that you discover. If these situations are handled skillfully, this transit reveals a new you — a new expanded awareness of your life that will be helpful in removing hindrances from the past.

THE SATURN OPPOSITIONS

SATURN OPPOSITION THE SUN

There is likely to be friction or conflict between you and people in positions of authority, power, and responsibility. They will not be sympathetic toward you. It is a time for hard work, which is often difficult. As always, the key problem is emotionality, which causes you to feel overworked, lonely, unappreciated, and lacking. Men, bosses, parents, elders, government agents, and people who have influence over your life will hinder and impede your efforts, causing you to become frustrated. This is usually a period when there is intense competition on the job, and it comes at a bad time because your energy levels are quite low. You may experience pain or discomfort in your muscles, joints, or teeth. This transit reveals how skillfully you responded fourteen years ago when Saturn crossed over your Sun.

SATURN OPPOSITION THE MOON

Problems arise with your family, women, and children. These difficulties will manifest in the house area ruled by the Moon, where you feel confined and restricted. This is a critical aspect emotionally because Saturn turns the water of the Moon to ice. Thus, you become emotionally and romantically cold, isolated, unresponsive, and depressed. Though you feel you are responding warmly to people, they feel that you are not responding at all. This coldness tends to spill over into all areas of your life and could cause a relationship to end.

Intimate relationships that survive this opposition will never be the same. Astrologers call this transit the alienation aspect. You are not just alienated from those with whom you are most intimate; you are consciously and subconsciously alienated from your own subjective personality. This can be even more difficult and frustrating. Be careful when you try to break free of the isolation. With the Moon afflicted, it is not a good time to make changes or try to move. Interactions with mother can be frustrating and painful. Be careful of what you eat and guard your stomach.

SATURN OPPOSITION MERCURY

Major failures of communication can cause serious problems. Be sure you are listening. Be sure they are listening. This is a cycle when the mind can easily become depressed, which will produce pessimism and bitterness. Do not become discouraged.

Move forward. Be careful of anything you write or sign, as it could cause constriction later. Delays or loss through the postal system or a delivery service are likely. It will take extra time to get your mail so allow it plenty of time. Take precautions to protect outgoing correspondence and shipments.

SATURN OPPOSITION VENUS

Hindrances and obstacles will arise in your love life and affect your financial situation. If you have no love life, little will happen or it will be boring. A romance started now will end negatively and bring sadness. Friends and lovers will make heavy demands on you and add to your responsibilities. You will have increased social obligations. Be sure you fulfill your responsibilities, obligations, and commitments. Protect yourself against financial loss.

SATURN OPPOSITION MARS

The resistance of Saturn is obstructing the drive of Mars. You are likely to feel restless and frustrated. You will work harder than usual just to accomplish everyday tasks. Beware of becoming psychologically rash, hard, or cold. Guard yourself against the ever-rising emotions of anger, resentment, and fear. If you are not careful, your thoughts and actions can turn into destructive events. Your home or work area could become noisy or disorganized. Safeguard your teeth and bones against accidents.

SATURN OPPOSITION JUPITER

Doctors, lawyers, and lawsuits can cause restriction or loss. Difficulties could become worse because of limits and shortages. Problems can arise as a result of infected blood, circulatory trouble, or exhaustion. Because your mind is restless and annoyed, you find it hard to deal with what you perceive to be limitations. Projects started now are likely to get out of hand and be very expensive. Theology, philosophy, and religious people may add to your feelings of confinement. There may be clashes between you and someone else based on ideological differences. If you are not careful, it could end a relationship.

SATURN OPPOSITION SATURN

This aspect represents a reaping of the forces released during your last Saturn return. If you have been skillful, applied self-discipline, and worked hard over the last fourteen years, your present efforts will produce great rewards in the future. Continue working hard and keep your eyes on tomorrow. The problem is that you feel people near you are cold or indifferent or that they are becoming an added burden. You feel that people have disappointed you. Whether or not this is true, be careful of your emotional reactions. Do not become cold, aloof, or indifferent. Watch your money carefully or you could get into financial difficulty. Older people and real estate could be a source of concern or constriction.

SATURN OPPOSITION URANUS

Sudden and unexpected responsibilities will manifest. Friends will add to your already heavy obligations. The house that Aquarius rules will not allow you as much freedom as usual because of these added responsibilities. There is a potential for danger during this transit if you travel by air, handle electrical equipment, or get exposed to x-rays. The structure and underpinnings of your life will vanish suddenly and with lightning bolt speed. There will be a battle between traditional values and avant-garde values. This struggle will manifest both at work and in the home. No matter which side of the battle you are on, it will be difficult to win.

SATURN OPPOSITION NEPTUNE

Whatever holds your life together begins to dissolve under this transit, and the reasons for it will not be clear. Thus, it is hard to defend yourself against these forces. Problems will occur related to romance, drugs, alcohol, irresponsibility, delusion, and self-deception. It may be difficult to distinguish reality from fantasy. Your imagination will malfunction and the mind will play tricks on you. This can lead to depression. Beware of anyone who has a get-rich-quick scheme, or for that matter, a get-enlightenment-quick scheme. Be conscious of your own absurd schemes and do something to become more practical and down-to-earth.

SATURN OPPOSITION PLUTO

Your mind is coercive. You feel challenged and restricted so your subconscious mind erupts. People will trigger your self-created emotional confinement. If there is any resentment in your subconscious mind, it will surface vigorously. This transit symbolizes a battle between the limitations you have created in your life and your inner mind. Either the limitations of the external world or your subconscious ego will win. If the battle is not handled skillfully, both you and those around you will lose. If Pluto and Saturn are well aspected in the natal chart, intense positive change will come into your life through hard work and effort and will last the rest of this incarnation.

THE JUPITER OPPOSITIONS

JUPITER OPPOSITION THE SUN

This transit makes you aware that the cause of all your problems (as well as their solutions) lies deep within your own being — not in any outside force. This is a period of conflict, misunderstandings, and differences of opinion between you and other people. It can be an expansive period materially, mentally, and spiritually, but there is also a danger that you will try to expand beyond practical levels. Over-expansion, over-optimism, or over-estimation when it comes to people, events, and situations can cause major difficulties for you.

Jupiter symbolizes the law. The Sun symbolizes you as an individual. Therefore, this opposition suggests that you and the law will oppose each other, which could indicate lawsuits or difficulties with government agents and authority figures. You need to be careful when dealing with superiors, as there will be disappointments. You need to be very careful of legal problems, which could also be generated by someone else's actions. Be careful and do not misplace confidence in subordinates.

JUPITER OPPOSITION THE MOON

You need to be careful when transiting Jupiter opposes the natal Moon. Any planetary force left unchecked will manifest to its extreme. The Moon is submissive and easily absorbs negative energy, so it will not resist the potentially over-expansive force of Jupiter (or any other planetary force). An opposition from Jupiter makes you demanding, often causing you to lose a marriage or business partner. The seriousness of this will depend on the natal aspects to the planet Jupiter is transiting. Your best protection is moderation. Guard against going to extremes or being overly optimistic, which produces reckless mistakes that can result in unpleasant outcomes.

If afflicted, Jupiter always indicates the possibility of legal or financial problems. This aspect often brings difficulties through changes that involve women, children, and the general public. These difficulties or misunderstandings can cause alienation of affection. Slander can occur, which causes serious problems. Slander needs to be fought at this time — not just guarded against. This aspect also causes you to become undisciplined, indulgent, and extravagant when it comes to food, drink, and money. Bad habits develop because you feel the world owes you something.

JUPITER OPPOSITION MERCURY

An inharmonious Jupiter aspect usually produces recklessness and extravagance that is more often felt in the business world than in one's personal life. The problems that arise during this transit are caused by sloppy thinking and by lack of attention to detail. Conflicts occur because people feel you are too conceited and pompous, which you may be. You need to guard against carelessness in business affairs. If the natal chart warrants it, you may need to protect yourself against deceit. This transit indicates misfortunes caused by bad communications. It brings loss through professionals, religion, law, and medicine.

JUPITER OPPOSITION VENUS

This transit produces a desire for the exquisite, which can have a draining effect on your finances. It indicates emotional recklessness, inharmonious relationships, and problems with money. Disappointments will affect your career, finances, and love life. Travel, education, and social interactions will be expensive. If you waste too much money, major problems or complications can arise in the house ruled by Venus. Relatives tend to impose themselves on you emotionally, financially, and sometimes bodily. The danger on a physical level is Jupiter/Venus stimulates your sweet tooth so you put on weight and health problems related to sugar, such as diabetes, can develop.

JUPITER OPPOSITION MARS

This transit produces exhaustion and complications. Any relationship you seek to break away from will cause much stronger disagreements and conflict than you expect. Be prepared ahead of time. All hard transits of Jupiter have the potential to bring financial difficulties, legal complications, and health problems related to the circulatory system or regenerative organs. Take care so problems do not arise. Remember, this is only a transit. It is not a progressed aspect so the energy should be weaker.

JUPITER OPPOSITION JUPITER

The house Jupiter is in natively is in conflict with the house that Jupiter is transiting. A feeling of restlessness arises and you will not be as content as usual. You feel that you are not being given the "breaks" you think everyone else gets. Money flows out of your life recklessly. This aspect causes you to become overconfident, taking on more than you can effectively handle. Your overconfidence causes people to feel that you are trying to take over the office or organization. This causes them to put obstacles in your way, slowing down or stopping your advancement.

JUPITER OPPOSITION SATURN

This is generally a period when you take on too many responsibilities. Stress and conflict cause you to make significant changes in your career and financial situation. One of the negative effects of this opposition is that you lose your self-confidence. Complications occur because of an inability to communicate your intentions in a serious way. You feel that you are being ridiculed. You need to watch out for coldness and indifference. Your health also needs to be guarded, particularly the blood system and liver. Pressure from an authoritarian figure could lead to legal or medical complications.

JUPITER OPPOSITION URANUS

This transit tends to cause difficulties because of conceit and pride. These emotions stimulate jealousy in other people. Thus, gossip often arises that can hurt you deeply. You want to unburden yourself of all responsibilities and boundaries that you consider to be confining. This opposition intensely affects any relationship that produces even the smallest obligation. It is highly likely that you will find yourself suddenly free from some obligation related to a job or relationship. This will impel you to unburden yourself even more, but be careful not to throw out the baby with the bath water. Jupiter has the potential to produce legal complications. This is a time when difficulties can arise because of electricity, electronics, or technology. Be cautious of what you say on the telephone, through e-mail communications, or anything you record.

JUPITER OPPOSITION NEPTUNE

The key challenge of this transit is that it is difficult or impossible for you to distinguish between the real world and your idealistic universe. Troubles and complications arise through the law, medicine, professionals, or so-called religious people. This aspect tends to produce vague feelings of negativity, misperceptions, inaccuracies, and recklessness. There is a tendency for you not to listen, and therefore to be brutally self-deceived.

One of the most common psychological effects of this opposition is that the mind feels extremely optimistic and starts gambling. It may gamble with life, love, career, or your finances, any of which can cause you endless problems. Another danger is that you may be deceived, most likely by a "religious" person or organization. You also need to be careful of overindulgence, intoxication, and infection, especially ptomaine poisoning from seafood.

JUPITER OPPOSITION PLUTO

This aspect causes you to become self-centered. You are difficult to be with because you isolate yourself. Problems arise because you think that you alone are right and have all the answers. This will bring serious conflicts with powerful people in your life. You will be driven to achieve success during this transit, which you link with power. The problem is that you will underestimate the power of those who oppose you, or who will oppose you very soon if you do not rein in your ego's drive for control. You will irritate people, especially bosses and authoritarian people. They become nervous because of the way they perceive your actions and reactions. Do not try to force your views on others, or even appear to try. If you do, there will be a serious backlash.
